EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The Footprint to Freedom (FTF) Annual Report for the year 2022 presents a comprehensive overview of our organisations efforts in combating human trafficking in the Netherlands and East Africa (Uganda, Kenya, and Rwanda). Founded and led by the resilient survivor of human trafficking, Malaika Oringo, FTF remains dedicated to empowering survivors and breaking the cycle of exploitation.

FOREWARD

Dear Supporters, Partners, and Friends,

It is with great pleasure and gratitude that I present to you the annual report for Footprint to Freedom (FTF) for the year 2022. As the founder of FTF and a survivor of human trafficking, this report holds immense significance for me, as it showcases the progress we have made in our mission to combat this heinous crime.

When I established Footprint to Freedom, my vision was to create a survivor-led organization that would empower others to rise above their circumstances and become advocates for change. Today, I am proud to say that we have made significant strides towards achieving this vision. We have built a network of survivor leaders, engaged communities in awareness and prevention efforts, provided support and skills training to survivors, and strengthened collaborations with key stakeholders.

The accomplishments detailed in this report would not have been possible without the unwavering support of our dedicated team, volunteers, and the generous contributions from our donors and partners. I am humbled by the commitment and passion displayed by everyone involved in our cause. Together, we have made a tangible impact in the lives of survivors and in the fight against human trafficking. However, as we celebrate our successes, we must also acknowledge the challenges we have encountered along the way. Retaining professional survivors as trainers, expanding outreach in rural areas, and providing adequate mental health support remain ongoing challenges that we are actively addressing. These obstacles only strengthen our resolve to find innovative solutions and secure sustainable resources to overcome them.

FOREWARD

Looking ahead, Footprint to Freedom is committed to building on our achievements and continuing our efforts to break the cycle of human trafficking.

We will further enhance our programs, strengthen collaborations, and amplify our advocacy effort. With your continued support, we can create a world where survivors thrive, communities are educated and vigilant, and laws and policies protect the vulnerable.

I extend my deepest gratitude to each and every one of you who has been a part of this journey. Your belief in our mission and your commitment to making a difference has been truly ruly inspiring. Let us continue to stand united in our fight against human trafficking, knowing that together, we can bring about lasting change.

In solidarity,

Malaiika Oringo
Founder, Footprint to Freedom

A LETTER

FROM THE LEADERSHIP IN UGANDA

Dear Readers,

The past year has been one of tremendous growth and achievement for FTF. Guided by our founder, Malaika Oringo, a resilient survivor and passionate advocate against human trafficking, we have continued to make a lasting impact in the fight against this grave violation of human rights. As an organisation, founded and run exclusively by survivors, our approach is deeply rooted in the belief that survivor leadership is key to effecting real change.

In 2022, we saw the fruits of this philosophy as we actively addressed and minimized human trafficking risk factors through effective preventive measures. Our survivor-led initiatives, in collaboration with dedicated volunteers and community members, have empowered countless individuals to stand up against trafficking in Uganda and East Africa.

"Collaboration has been at the heart of our progress, and we are deeply grateful to our partners, including other NGOs, CSOs, government agencies, and faith-based organizations. The strengthened network of anti-human trafficking stakeholders has allowed us to advocate more effectively and pursue multi-agency collaborations for a united front against human trafficking. While celebrating our accomplishments, we must also acknowledge the challenges we have faced. Retaining professional survivors, expanding outreach efforts, and providing comprehensive mental health support remain priorities as we move forward. These challenges motivate us to find innovative solutions and secure sustainable resources to fulfill our mission.

I want to express my sincere appreciation to the incredible team at FTF, the passionate volunteers, and the survivors who have dedicated themselves to this cause. Your resilience and determination are an inspiration to us all.

To our generous donors and partners, your belief in our work has been the driving force behind our success. Your contributions have made it possible for us to continue our life-changing programs and initiatives.

Thank you for being an integral part of our journey.

Sincerely,

Nyadoi Philisters

Regional Coordinator, FTF Uganda Chapter

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

We extend our heartfelt gratitude to our partners, donors, volunteers, and staff who have played pivotal roles in our accomplishments. Their unwavering support has fueled our mission to combat human trafficking and empower survivors.

ABOUT US

Footprint to Freedom is a survivor-led organization founded by Malaika Oringo, herself a survivor of human trafficking. Malaika's ambition, resilience, and unwavering passion drive our mission. Since 2008, we have actively combated human trafficking, officially registering in 2019.

Our core focus centers on empowering survivors and supporting their recovery and reintegration into society. Operating in the Netherlands and East Africa (Uganda, Kenya, Rwanda), we create safe spaces and foster survivor agency and leadership. Equipped with essential tools, survivors advocate for abolitionist legislation, gender equality, climate action, labor rights, safe migration, victim support, and financial inclusion.

With a holistic approach encompassing Prevention, Education, Empowerment, Engagement, Reintegration, and Advocacy, survivor leadership remains at the heart of our work. We actively promote Sustainable Development Goals related to poverty alleviation, health, decent work, and climate action.

Through comprehensive projects, we provide assistance to survivors, focusing on protection, well-being, economic justice, and self-determination. Our empowerment center in Uganda supports survivors with employable skills, mental health care, and leadership development in human trafficking prevention. Footprint to Freedom is driven by the mission to break the cycle of human trafficking in East Africa and the Netherlands. By empowering survivors and fostering cultural awareness, we aim to create a well-informed society capable of identifying trafficking signs.

MISSION

To break the cycle of human trafficking in East Africa, creating a network of survivor leaders to empower potential victims, survivors, communities, and local governments.

VISION

A world where survivors of human trafficking thrive, supported by a caring community, just laws, and policies committed to restoration and empowerment.

2022 HIGHLIGHTS

women participated in our empowerment program

Footprint to Freedom reached new heights in our mission to combat human trafficking and empower survivors. We established an Empowerment Center in Uganda, providing a sanctuary of hope for more vulnerable women and girls from the community of Seeta. Over 200 women participated in our empowerment program, equipping them with employable skills and critical mental health support.

villagers were enlightened on human trafficking, environmental awareness, and climate change education.

Beyond the center, our interventions extended to the broader community, enlightening approximately 5,000 villagers through engaging sessions on human trafficking, environmental awareness, and climate change education. By nurturing a culture of awareness and vigilance, we fostered a ripple effect of change, mobilizing the community to safeguard against exploitation and trafficking.

286

young individuals received vital training through our Upgradation Program securing brighter futures.

PROGRAM JOURNEY

From humble beginnings conducting outreach work under a tree to the establishment of an Empowerment Center in Uganda, Footprint to Freedom's journey has been one of remarkable transformation and relentless dedication. Since 2019, we have tirelessly worked to combat human trafficking and empower vulnerable communities with life-changing solutions.

Empowerment Center: Holistic Growth and Independence

Recognizing that awareness-raising alone cannot prevent human trafficking, we took a momentous step and opened the Empowerment Center. Here, survivors and at-risk women and girls from the community of Seeta find a sanctuary of hope, armed with employable skills and critical mental health support. We believe in nurturing holistic growth - mind, body, spirit, and heart - enabling survivors to regain control, independence, and minimize the risks of re-exploitation.

The impact of the Empowerment Center has been profound. Over 200 women have participated in our women empowerment program, forging new paths of empowerment. Additionally, approximately 5,000 villagers have been enlightened through our interventions in human trafficking, environmental awareness, and climate change education, igniting a ripple effect of change throughout the community.

Transforming Lives Through Skill Upgradation

At Footprint to Freedom, we are committed to transforming youth into skilled and productive members of society. Our Skill Upgradation Program has successfully converted 286 young individuals, equipping them with vital skills to secure brighter futures. Through our remedial education project, we have trained 321 survivors and youth in eMarketing, computer literacy, sustainable sewing, art and craft, and entrepreneurship, empowering them with tools for sustainable livelihoods.

PROGRAM JOURNEY

Empowering Advocates and Educating Communities

To extend our impact, we identified 20 dedicated FTF volunteers, providing them with comprehensive training on identifying traffickers and implementing community-based prevention approaches. Armed with essential Information, Education, and Communication (IEC) materials, we engaged schools and communities, raising awareness among over 15,000 beneficiaries. We also educated over 1,000 school children about the harsh realities of child trafficking, empowering them to safeguard their own futures.

Supporting Survivors: A Journey of Healing and Empowerment

Our commitment to supporting victims and survivors in restorative interventions remains unwavering. Through compassionate needs assessments and psychosocial support, we have become a guiding light on their path towards healing and empowerment. However, we recognize that access to medical attention, alternative shelters, and comprehensive skills development are vital in ensuring their sustained recovery.

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

Footprint to Freedom (FTF) is dedicated to breaking the cycle of human trafficking in Uganda by implementing a range of programs and initiatives aimed at raising awareness, providing support to survivors, and advocating for systemic change. Our survivor-led approach is focused on empowering individuals to become leaders in the fight against trafficking

Prevention and Community Outreach

The aim of this program was to create awareness and educate communities about human trafficking, equip them with preventive strategies, and foster a sense of ownership in combating this issue.

1. Identification and training of FTF volunteers - We identify and train dedicated volunteers who play a vital role in raising awareness and conducting outreach activities in their communities.

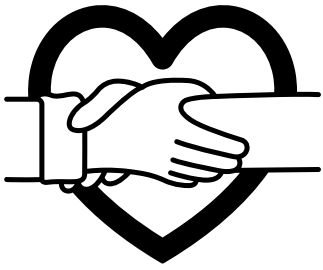

2. Skills development and capacity building - We provide training in various areas, such as computer literacy, fashion and design, and talent development, to empower individuals and enhance their economic prospects.

3. Awareness campaigns and media engagement - We utilize social media, community gatherings, and local media platforms to raise awareness about human trafficking and disseminate important information to the target audience.

Outcome

Increased community awareness, improved knowledge about human trafficking, and the development of prevention strategies among community members.

Support and Restoration for Survivors:

This program focused on offering comprehensive support to survivors, addressing their immediate needs, and empowering them for a brighter future.

- 1. Needs assessment and case management: We conduct thorough assessments to identify the individual needs of survivors and provide them with appropriate support, including psychosocial counseling and access to medical services.
- 2. Skills development and vocational training: We offer survivors the opportunity to acquire new skills, such as IT and fashion design, to enhance their employability and provide alternative livelihood options.
- 3. Advocacy and awareness by survivors: We encourage survivors to become advocates and share their experiences, empowering them to be agents of change and challenge societal perceptions surrounding human trafficking.

Outcome:
Empowered survivors with improved well-being, enhanced skills, and increased self-sufficiency, leading to sustainable reintegration into society.

Advocacy and Stakeholder Engagement

This program focuses on building partnerships, engaging with stakeholders, and advocating for policy and systemic changes to combat human trafficking effectively.

1. Stakeholder meetings and collaborations: We actively engage with NGOs, CSOs, government agencies, and other relevant stakeholders to foster collaboration, share best practices, and coordinate efforts in the fight against human trafficking.
2. Capacity building and trainings: We provide training opportunities for our team members and stakeholders on legal frameworks, advocacy strategies, and survivor leadership to enhance their knowledge and skills in combating human trafficking.
3. Policy dialogue and advocacy campaigns: We participate in policy dialogues, workshops, and awareness campaigns to advocate for the rights of survivors, promote anti-human trafficking legislation, and influence positive changes at the policy level.

Outcome:

Strengthened networks, improved collaborations, and increased capacity among stakeholders, leading to more effective anti-human trafficking efforts and policy reforms.

Through these programs, Footprint to Freedom is making a significant impact in the lives of survivors and communities affected by human trafficking. We remain committed to our mission and will continue to work tirelessly to create a world where survivors thrive and human trafficking is eradicated.

Climate Change Awareness & Education.

Footprint to Freedom recognizes the interconnectedness between human trafficking and climate change, and we have initiated a program to address the impact of environmental issues on vulnerable communities.

This program focuses on increasing awareness and understanding of climate change in communities, promote environmental conservation, and provide sustainable solutions for vulnerable populations.

1. We conduct awareness programs in schools, churches, and community gatherings to educate individuals about the causes and consequences of climate change.
2. Using interactive workshops, documentaries, and informational materials, we engage community members in discussions about how climate change affects their lives and future generations. Through these awareness sessions, we promote the importance of environmental conservation and sustainable practices.

Clean-Up campaigns and tree planting:

1. Footprint to Freedom organizes clean-up campaigns in various areas to promote proper garbage disposal and raise awareness about the impact of waste on the environment.
2. As part of our efforts to combat climate change, we actively engage community members in planting trees to increase green cover and mitigate the effects of deforestation.

Climate Change Advocacy:

1. We actively participate in advocacy activities to promote climate change action at the community and national levels.
2. By engaging with local authorities, government agencies, and other stakeholders, we advocate for the integration of climate change considerations into policies and development plans.

Environmental Sustainability Initiatives:

1. In addition to raising awareness, we are committed to practical solutions that promote environmental sustainability.
2. We explore opportunities for sustainable income-generating activities, such as recycling programs, to support communities economically while reducing waste.

Climate Change and Human Trafficking Nexus

- Recognizing the link between climate change and vulnerability to human trafficking, we actively promote dialogue on how environmental issues can exacerbate trafficking risks.
- By understanding the underlying connections, we work to develop comprehensive approaches that address both environmental challenges and human trafficking.

Outcome:

Increased community understanding of climate change, promotion of environmental conservation efforts, and the implementation of sustainable initiatives that contribute to both climate change mitigation and human trafficking prevention.

The Climate Change Program at Footprint to Freedom aligns with our vision of a world where survivors of human trafficking are thriving members of the community, surrounded by just laws and policies, informed service providers, and sustainable livelihood options. We believe that addressing the environmental challenges faced by vulnerable communities is an integral part of breaking the cycle of human trafficking and creating a more resilient and equitable society.

IMPACT STORIES

I learned about footprint through a friend after years of wanting to travel abroad for greener pastures being a single mother I was determined to work for my children. I found out that the company that wanted to connect me for work was fake through footprint , footprint helped me read through the contract and understand ,made follow ups and we discovered they were traffickers. After completing my course , I got a job with life worth vision our partner organization as an IT personnel . I am now skilled I can never be lured by a false dream of greener pastures. I am blessed to say that I can pay my children's school fees, bills and take good care of them despite the fact that I am a single mother.

-Joan Matebe

I am one of the first survivors of human trafficking that joined footprint empowerment center. Being a professional teacher, today I am mentoring women, guiding, counseling, and sensitizing them on human trafficking through my story. Footprint helped me heal from the wounds of human trafficking through guidance and counseling. I believe my story can change someone else's story.

Being a school drop out due to lack of fees, I decided to look for a job, I landed on my O.G, who encouraged me to go and work in Saudi Arabia as a cashier in a certain company ,she helped me process every thing that was needed for me to go and work, I was excited because I was assured that my monthly salary was 2million, i saw Saudi as heaven on earth , because seriously life was hard in Uganda , job scarcity. When I reached there it was hell on earth , I was given a job as a house girl, I was disappointed ,overworked, underpaid , I really faced a lot torture . God helped me and I came back to my country, my heart was wounded, I was traumatized. But when I learned about footprint and joined it , my life has never been the same . They helped me recover mentally through guidance, counseling and prayers, this made me feel at home. I then enrolled in fashion and design for one year course training. I am now well skilled and am planning on starting my own business .footprint is the home of hope and transformation. I now see a bright future.

CHAPTER HIGHLIGHTS AND IMPACT

FOOTPRINT KENYA CHAPTER

Footprint to Freedom Kenyan chapter continues its unwavering commitment to empowering lives and raising voices against human trafficking. Throughout the year, our dedicated team worked tirelessly to shed light on the shadows of exploitation by raising awareness and advocating for the rights of vulnerable populations. We forged valuable partnerships with like-minded organizations and government administrations, amplifying our impact in the communities most at risk.

Our journey of mentorship and empowerment thrived, as we embraced victims and survivors with warmth and compassion. Through skillful storytelling and skills training, we empowered those affected to rise above their challenges. We take pride in painting a picture of hope for young mothers, providing them with opportunities to dream anew and pursue their aspirations.

FOOTPRINT UGANDA CHAPTER

Footprint to Freedom's Uganda chapter embarked on a transformative journey of awareness. Over the course of the year, we diligently worked to dispel ignorance surrounding human trafficking through education and sensitization programs. Our unwavering dedication in engaging communities, churches, and schools enabled us to unravel the dangers of trafficking, illuminating the path to prevention.

Beyond awareness, our efforts extended to empowerment. We empowered survivors, single mothers, and youth by offering diverse skilling programs in fashion designing and Information Technology, enabling them to combat unemployment and poverty.

FOOTPRINT RWANDA CHAPTER

Footprint to Freedom Rwanda chapter thrived on the triumph of resilience. Throughout the year, we dedicated ourselves to outreach programs for street children and vulnerable youth. Our powerful narrative unfolded through acrobatics, fashion, and design, offering solace and strength to those in need.

Our efforts in reaching children affected by illiteracy and misinformation were marked by profound impact. Through acrobatics and circus acts, we instilled valuable life skills, fostering responsibility, trust, cooperation, and self-confidence. The result was a heartwarming tale of reunification, as we helped children rediscover their families and connect with a supportive community, empowering them to leap towards a brighter future.

FOOTPRINT NETHERLANDS

In the heart of the Netherlands, Footprint to Freedom's chapter made a resounding impact through voices of empowerment. Throughout the year, we amplified the stories of survivors in national and international debates, advocating for their long-term survivorship beyond trauma sharing.

Our unwavering commitment to understanding the unique challenges faced by survivors led to impactful solutions. By addressing issues like physical and emotional trauma, unemployment, stigma, and lack of skills, we empowered survivors to reclaim their lives. Our empowering narrative fostered resilience, empowerment, and engagement, standing as a beacon of hope for those affected by human trafficking.

2022 OUTREACH HIGHLIGHTS & COLLABORATIONS

PARTNERSHIP

In 2022, Footprint to Freedom made tremendous strides in its mission to combat human trafficking, empower survivors, and advocate for sustainable solutions. Through strategic collaborations, donations, and impactful initiatives, we continue to create a meaningful and lasting impact on the lives of those we serve. Below are our outreach highlights for the year 2022.

- 1. Child10 Collaboration: In 2022, Footprint to Freedom continued its impactful collaboration with Child10, an organization dedicated to combating child trafficking. As a result of our shared commitment, FTF received a prestigious grant from Child10 in 2020, which we utilized for capacity building and empowering survivors to take on leadership roles.
- 2. SENSE Foundation Support: The generosity of the SENSE Foundation Brussels enabled us to establish an empowerment and rehabilitation center. This vital donation allowed us to further expand our support to vulnerable individuals, empowering them to overcome challenges and create a brighter future.
- 3. Consulting with UN University Center for Research (Case Study - Ghana): Footprint to Freedom had the honor of collaborating with the UN University Center for Research, focusing on a case study centered in Ghana. Through this collaboration, we gained valuable insights and expertise, enhancing our efforts to combat trafficking and promote sustainable solutions.
- 4. Engaging Change Makers on SDGs Vision 2030: Our organization worked closely with 22 change makers, including community leaders, government officials, journalists, and police officers, to align our efforts with the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) Vision 2030. This collaboration fostered collective action towards a more sustainable and equitable future.
- 5. i-Found International Forum of Understanding (COP27 Climate Change): Footprint to Freedom actively participated in the i-Found International Forum of Understanding during COP27, focusing on climate change and sustainability. Our innovative pilot program, "Footprint to Sustainability," exemplified our commitment to combat environmental challenges and promote sustainable practices.
- 6. Swedish Embassy in South Africa Conference: Addressing Human Trafficking and Legalization of Prostitution – FTF contributed to the critical dialogue on combating human trafficking and advocating against the legalization of prostitution at a significant conference hosted by the Swedish Embassy in South Africa.

NOTABLE CHALLENGES

Amidst our remarkable achievements, Footprint to Freedom (FTF) encountered challenges that tested our resilience and highlighted areas for growth. These challenges, while significant, have only fueled our determination to forge ahead and make an even greater impact in the fight against human trafficking.

- Retaining Professional Survivors as Trainers: Limited funds for higher compensation posed a hurdle in retaining professional survivors as trainers. Recognizing the immense value they bring to our programs, FTF aims to secure sustainable funding to provide them with the compensation they deserve, ensuring their vital expertise continues to empower others on their journey to freedom.
- Expanding Outreach in Rural Areas: Our commitment to reaching vulnerable communities in remote rural areas came at a cost. Increased transportation expenses strained our budget, hindering our ability to extend our outreach efforts effectively. FTF is resolute in exploring innovative solutions and strategic partnerships to overcome these logistical challenges, ensuring that no community is left behind.
- Insufficient Capacity for Mental Health Support: Recognizing the importance of holistic care for survivors, FTF acknowledges the need to enhance our capacity for mental health support. We are actively working towards bolstering our resources and expertise in this crucial area, providing comprehensive and trauma-informed care that uplifts survivors on their path to healing and resilience.

FUTURE PLANS

Looking ahead, FTF is steadfast in our commitment to strengthen community resilience and amplify survivor-led initiatives. Our vision for the future encompasses transformative steps that will revolutionize the fight against human trafficking and empower survivors to reclaim their lives.

- Enhancing Mental Health Support: FTF is dedicated to expanding our capacity for mental health support, ensuring that survivors receive the holistic care they need to heal from the trauma they have endured. By prioritizing mental well-being, we enable survivors to rebuild their lives with strength and resilience.
- Securing Sustainable Funding: FTF recognizes the critical importance of sustainable funding to drive long-term impact. We are actively seeking strategic partnerships, engaging with donors, and exploring innovative funding models to ensure the continuity and expansion of our vital programs.
- Collective Impact through Strategic Partnerships: FTF firmly believes that collective action yields greater results. We are committed to forging strategic partnerships with like-minded organizations, government entities, and community leaders to maximize our impact, share resources, and drive systemic change.
